

In response to FOIA 21-02135 requesting:

“. . . a list of all of the Title IV recipient institutions that are authorized to operate educational programs in adult and juvenile correctional facilities.”

The Department of Education (Department) currently does not approve institutions to provide Pell Grants to students in local jails or juvenile justice facilities. “Adult and juvenile correctional facilities” include local jails and juvenile justice facilities, where students have always remained Pell-eligible.

The Department is providing two lists of institutions identifying those which have reported Pell Grant payments using the “incarcerated student indicator” in the Common Origination and Disbursement System.

Additionally, the Department is providing a list of institutions participating in the Second Chance Pell experiment which is publicly available at the ExperimentalSite.ed.gov webpage.
